22 December 2016: Unidentified assailants fired rockets at an Iranian cargo ship off the coast of Al-Luhayyah, killing at least seven Pakistani sailors. The vessel was en route to Dubai, UAE, from Egypt. Unconfirmed reports claimed the vessel sank due to heavy damage.

29 December 2016: A US drone-strike targeted AQAP militants, killing at least four, reportedly including a local AQAP Emir in Al Bayda province.

5 January 2017: Houthi sources claimed Houthi forces fired a Tochka missile killing 150 pro-government troops near Bab al Mandab strait.

11 January 2017: Houthi rebels conducted an artillery strike in the Kirsh district of Lahij targeting Hadi government forces. The attack occurred directly beneath a major flight path but caused no reported disruptions to commercial aviation.

12 January 2017: Single source reporting indicated that a Hadi government drone was shot down by Houthi guided missile in the Taiz area. No confirmation of the incident was made by official sources.
22 December 2016: An airstrike struck the district of Sanhan, approximately 10NM south of SAH, close to the main flight path of descending aircraft. There were no reported disruptions to commercial operations or associated infrastructure.

24 December 2016: Houthi media said that Houthis rebels successfully launched an Iranian-made Zilzal-2 ballistic missile targeting pro-government forces in Nihm district.

25 December 2016: An airstrike was reported in Sanhan district, close to SAH and the main flight path for descending aircrafts. The incident did not cause any reported disruption to SAH or its infrastructure.

10 - 13 January 2017: A number of coalition airstrikes were carried out in close vicinity to SAH, under the main corridors of commercial carriers coming in and out of the airport. These targeted the districts of Arhab, and Sanhan; at 17NM north and 12NM south from SAH respectively. The incidents did not cause disruption to activity at SAH.
28 December 2016: A suicide bomber detonated a SVEST at the al-Sawlababa military base in Al-Arish district. At least 40 people were killed and 80 others injured. The incident was claimed by IS, the second attack targeting military personnel in Aden in a month. The previous incident was recorded on 10 December, claiming the lives of 70 people.

04 January 2016: A local security forces intercepted a vehicle carrying components used to build VBIEDs. IS propaganda was also found in the vehicle which travelled from an IS stronghold in Bayda province, attempting to enter Aden from the east.

14 January 2016: Two unidentified armed groups opened fire on each other, later engaging security personnel in a shootout which lasted four hours. The incident took place in Khor Maksar district, just a couple of hundred meters from the outer perimeter of ADE. Although this represented a risk of indirect fire to aircraft at low altitude, commercial aviation was not affected.